FORTY-SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE
ASSOCIATION FOR THE RELIEF OF RESPECTABLE
AGED INDIGENT FEMALES.

THE flight of another year reminds the Board of Managers that the Forty-sixth Annual Report of this Association is expected by its benefactors. This day may be regarded as one of those landmarks of time, where memories of the past and hopes for the future do in an emphatic manner demand expressions of gratitude to our heavenly Father; and, that our hearts should be enlarged towards those whose sympathy has lightened our toils and responsibilities during the past year, which, like the noble rivers that flow beside our city, has mingled its days with the ages of eternity. May every individual who has ministered to our necessities, experience the blessedness of oneness with the Saviour, even as He is "one with the Father."

As stewards of your bounty, we turn to our benefactors with glad hearts, inasmuch as we can assure them that their liberality to the poor has not been in vain in the Lord. While the world is resounding with the conquest of earthly empires, He whose "kingdom is not of this world" has graciously reigned in many willing hearts within these peaceful walls. Here the disconsolate have found sweet assurance before the Mercy-seat, and weary pilgrims have reposed upon the bosom of their Redeemer.

Before proceeding to record the ordinary details of the past twelve months, we pause to render a merited tribute to the memory of our departed friend and co-laborer, Mrs. Anson G. Phelps. She was a member of the Board of Managers for twenty-five years, and continued diligently to perform her duties to the Society until the close of life. Mrs. Phelps was called from her sphere of usefulness in this world on the 24th of April, 1859, aged 76 years. Our loss has, we cannot doubt, become her gain, in that happy land where the faithful servants of Christ find eternal rest in the presence of God and the Lamb.

The managers would mention, with gratitude to the Father of Mercies, that although our aged friends have continued to experience the varied forms of physical infirmity which are the usual accompaniments of declining life; yet through the divine favor, only three of the inmates of this Asylum have been removed by death, and in each instance we have been permitted to witness the sustaining power and triumph of faith amid the pangs of dissolving nature. The names and ages of those departed ones were respectively as follows:—Mary Varick, age ninety-two, an inmate ten years and two months; Jane Mitchel, age eighty-four, in the institution nineteen years; Ann Hewit, age eighty-two, in the asylum three years and six months.* They were simple-hearted and patient sufferers, who having received the promises, could say with the patriarch Job, "All the days of my appointed time will I wait till my change come."

Wisely adapted to the necessities of saints in every age and condition, the Bible which they delighted to honor, proved their safe guide through this vale of tears and up to that gate over which it is written in Capitals of light: "Blessed are they that do His commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and enter in through the gates into the City." There we trust they are now united in singing: "Blessing and honor, and glory, and power, be unto Him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb, for ever and ever."

* The following names were omitted in our last report, viz.: Ellinor Coon, age seventy-five, a resident in the home eleven years and six months; Harriet Duval, age seventy-two, an inmate thirteen years and four months.

Others far advanced in age still linger on the brink of time, but by the grace of God they seem to be looking for and hastening unto the coming of the Son of Man, who has promised his believing and expecting people, "I will come again and receive you unto myself, that where I am there ye may be also."

The number of those who have been confined to their rooms during the whole or any considerable portion of the last year, have been about thirty, and as already stated, three have passed over the flood into that land where the inhabitants shall no more say "I am sick," and where sin and death can never enter.

Thirteen aged ladies have been added to our family since the last anniversary, and two have been removed from the institution to the homes of their relatives. The present number of our charge is ninety-six. Several persons have applied to be admitted; and it is therefore quite probable that over one hundred aged poor would during the current year require to be supported in this asylum if it were possible to receive them; but every room in the house is fully occupied, and we are compelled to refuse many truly worthy applicants. Under these circumstances, the managers are constrained to appeal to a liberal public for aid. The increasing number of poor aged females in our city admonish us that the time has now come to commence a new and larger house upon the lots of ground owned by the Society. The Managers intend as soon as practicable to appoint a committee to present the subject more fully to the public. We earnestly hope that their appeal will meet with a generous response. The necessities of so large a company of aged poor, will we trust be regarded as a strong plea for increased liberality on the part of those who possess the means. "The poor," said our Lord, "ye have always with you, and whensoever ye will ye may do them good." An inspired man has said, "Give a portion to seven and also to eight; for thou knowest not what evil shall be upon the earth." Recent commercial revulsions have demonstrated the fact, that present wealth is no guaranty against coming want; it becomes us therefore to be kind to the poor while we possess the ability. It is a significant circumstance that the lady who accompanied Mrs. Catharine Romeyn to this house on the day that she entered as a pensioner, is now herself an applicant for admission. She says that when Mrs. Romeyn entered the building, she fell on her knees to thank God that she had now found a quiet resting-place where she might spend the last hours of her earthly pilgrimage; and she prayed fervently that the blessing of God might come not only upon those whose Christian liberality had provided such an asylum for the poor, but also upon the souls of all who might seek a refuge here in coming time.

The fiscal year now closed has been replete with the manifest favor of God, as will appear from the Reports of our several Committees.

The Committee on Applications have faithfully performed their duties. We have been unable to receive all who have applied for admission; but it is believed that the character and real wants of those who have been recommended by the Committee, have been carefully and conscientiously examined before their cases were submitted to the Board of Managers.

We are happy to report that since the last anniversary, our Church Committee have been enabled to provide divine service on the Sabbath. Clergymen of evangelical denominations have kindly occupied the Pulpit in our Chapel, faithfully dispensing the Gospel of Christ to those who were able to attend public worship. This to our aged charge is a privilege of much importance. Sojourners on the very verge of time, how great to them must be the consolation to listen to the ministrations of those who are called of God to aid and direct the aspirations of souls who are "looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God, and our Saviour Jesus Christ." The Managers cannot compensate those servants of the Lord, but great will be their reward on that day, when the Saviour will say, "Inasmuch as ye have done this to the least of my disciples, ye have done it unto me; enter ye into the joy of your Lord."

While the spiritual claims of our aged family have been duly cared for, their physical necessities have not been neglected. Through the kind assistance of our generous patrons, every substantial comfort has been provided, and the Managers would tender their grateful acknowledgments to Dr. Bibbins, whose kind and faithful attention to the bodily ailments of our enfeebled family has been constant. They would also record their thanks to Drs. Cooper and Watson for their repeated kindnesses to the aged inmates of this Institution. The gratuitous services of these gentlemen are highly appreciated by the Board, as they are most thankfully acknowledged by those whose sufferings have been mitigated by their skilful practice. It is due to the faithful and judicious attentions of the Matron of the Institution to say, that not only have the dying been soothed by her sympathy, but survivors continue to experience the alleviation of their many and sometimes severe distresses by her gentle and constant ministrations. Eleven years has she walked through the wards of this Asylum as a vigilant superintendent and an affectionate friend to those who have been committed to her care, and she continues to enjoy the undiminished confidence of the Managers of the Institution.

Eighty out-door pensioners have been assisted during the past year; but, when we contemplate the unmistakable poverty of all, as contrasted with the former opulence of some of these worthy persons, and think of their moral excellencies as the children of our heavenly Father, we cannot but regret that our means are often too limited to meet their pressing necessities. We lament to say that our available funds have not enabled us to afford them more than an average of two dollars per month during the winter season; and two hundred and twelve dollars have been distributed among the sick poor during the last summer. We hope that enlarged contributions to our treasury will enable us to increase the amount of our benefactions to these needy sufferers. May we all remember that it is written: "God shall stand at the right hand of the poor;" and again, "He that hath pity on the poor, lendeth unto the Lord, and that which he hath given will he pay him again."

Special thanks are due to the generous members of our long-trying auxiliary, by whose labors many of the poor who are not inmates of the Home have been furnished with garments, without which the piercing winds of last winter would have added greatly to their sorrows. Like the sainted Dorcas, these ladies have "labored working with their hands" that they might relieve the poor. Their works will follow them, and shall be rewarded in heaven.

We also record our grateful acknowledgments to the Purchasing Committee, whose arrangements have so ably provided food and fuel for the comfort of our helpless pensioners.

The Visiting Committee, we are happy to say, have manifested a praiseworthy attention to the laborious service of weekly inspecting the Institution in all its details. This duty, though onerous, has not been without its consolations. As they have passed from room to room to inquire after the health and wants of the occupants, how often have they been cheered by the grateful and pious greetings of the aged poor. On a recent visit, one old lady said: "O, how I bless God that he brought me to this comfortable and peaceful home to spend the last days of my long and toilsome life. Blessed be the Lord, here I was first enabled to see my need of a Saviour—here I first obtained a hope in Christ—here I gained faith in prayer, and became able to pray in faith. I thank God for all the comforts I now enjoy, and for all the kindness of the good ladies which I constantly experience—I pray for them every night and morning, and I do not doubt that they will have their reward.” Similar expressions were during the same visit uttered by others, in a manner which seemed to be the spontaneous outpouring of truly grateful hearts.

The Board of Managers sincerely regret that Mrs. Sarah Van Antwerp has felt it to be her duty to resign the Secretaryship, an office which for nearly twenty years she has filled with great ability, while she has most faithfully performed her duties as a manager of the Society by her uniform attendance at the meetings of the Board, and writing the Annual Reports of the Society in a manner highly satisfactory to all the friends of the Institution, for which she is justly entitled to the gratitude of the Board of Managers. We are happy to announce that Miss Sarah Dominick has consented to accept the vacated office, and is now the successor of Mrs. Van Antwerp.

In closing their Report, the Managers desire to exclaim, like the venerable Prophet: “Hitherto hath the Lord helped us;” and, like Samuel, we too would earnestly pray, that former mercies may prove the harbingers and pledge of future blessings. Great indeed have been the mercies of the Lord in sparing our much-loved First Directress, not only to preside at all the meetings of the Managers, but to perform with her accustomed energy the numerous duties which devolve upon her office. May the Lord graciously continue her useful life, and finally receive her into the mansions of glory; and may we all be enabled to labor with entire consecration to our life-work, and to the glory of the ascended Redeemer.
